Minister admits China is threat to UK security

A CABINET minister has described China as a "security threat" as the Government faces demands to officially label China "a threat".

The Government currently describes the nation an "epoch-defining challenge" but has faced pressure from MPs across the Commons to formally upgrade its assessment of Beijing.

Malicious

Those calls increased on Monday following confirmation that Chinese spies were behind "malicious" cyber attacks on the Electoral Commission and individual MPs and peers.

Asked yesterday whether she would be comfortable describing China as a threat, Education Secretary Gillian Keegan (above) said: "As I've said before, I'm not in the Diplomatic Service or the Foreign Office but it is obviously a security threat."

Boffins fight to save beer

SCIENTISTS fear climate change could "call time" on the great British pint and are helping brewers to save it.

Hops give bitter its taste but the plant doesn't like hotter, drier conditions and production has plummeted.

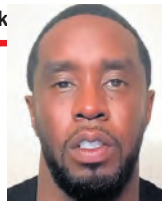

Researchers in Kent are isolating hop genes to find more climate-change resilient varieties.

They also want to produce more intense flavours that are now becoming popular.

"Without it, the British pint is going to die," Dani Whelan of the Shepherd Neame brewery said.

Armed cops storm rapper's homes DIDDY SEX RAID SHOCK

SEAN 'Diddy' Combs was stopped for questioning at a private airport in Miami on Monday night after cops raided his mansions over alleged sex crimes.

The music mogul's homes in Los Angeles and Miami were swarming with feds with heavily-armed agents and other law enforcement officers.

Diddy was nowhere to be seen until he appeared at Miami-Opa Locka Executive Airport at about 6pm local time. The rapper, 54, was seen pacing around after he and his entourage was questioned by Customs agents, but remained a free man as of Monday evening.

Diddy's mansion near Beverly Hills was one of at least two properties raided by agents as part of a sex trafficking probe.

The Department of Homeland Security said it had pursued the "law enforcement actions as part of an ongoing investigation" in New York, Los Angeles and Miami.

Last year, R&B singer Cassie filed a lawsuit in New York federal court against Mr Combs, whom she had dated between 2005 and 2018.

She alleged years of abuse at the hands of the rapper, though she later settled the lawsuit with him. Two other women then came forward with their own lawsuits, accusing him of sexual abuse.

Assange's appeal up in the air

WIKILEAKS founder Julian Assange will have to wait to find out whether he can appeal over his extradition to the United States, the High Court has ruled.

A further hearing will now be held in May, two High Court judges said, unless the US can give further assurances about what will happen to him.

Yank prosecutors allege the 52-year-old (above) encouraged and helped US Army intelligence analyst Chelsea Manning to steal diplomatic cables and military files that his site published.

But his supporters say Assange is a hero who's being persecuted for exposing American wrongdoing.

In a 66-page ruling for the Assange case, Dame Victoria Sharp said: "Before making a final decision on the application for leave to appeal, we will give the respondent an opportunity to give assurances."

"Then we will give the parties a chance to make further submissions before we make a final decision on the application for leave to appeal."

Banning vapes 'will not work'

THE boss of the UK's largest tobacco firm has said a ban on disposable vapes will not be "effective", claiming similar legislation overseas has not worked.

The Government introduced legislation to restrict the sale of tobacco so that anyone turning 15 this year, or younger, will never legally be sold cigarettes.

The Bill introduced new powers to restrict vape flavours and packaging marketed at children.

The Government wants to ban disposable vapes from April 2025.

Tadeu Marrocco, chief of British American Tobacco, said: "In Australia they have banned the whole category, and the amount teenagers use in the illegal market is very high."

PM cancels White House talks

ISRAEL has cancelled a meeting in Washington after the US failed to veto a UN Security Council resolution calling for a ceasefire in Gaza.

The resolution, which also called for the release of all hostages, followed failed attempts at measures since the October 7 attacks.

Furious Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu accused the US of having "abandoned" its previous policy and calling the move a "retreat" by Washington.

The spat comes amid calls for urgent action to avert a famine in Gaza.

Since the start of the conflict,

By COLIN HURST

the US has used its veto power to block three Security Council resolutions calling for pauses in the fighting or a ceasefire. Another two have been vetoed by both Russia and China.

On Monday, the US abstained on a resolution that called for an "immediate" ceasefire for the rest of Ramadan - two weeks - and the "immediate and unconditional release of all hostages".

The 14 other members of the council, including the UK, voted in favour, meaning the resolution passed.

Following the vote, Mr Netanyahu objected that the resolution did not make the call for a ceasefire conditional on the release of the hostages, as the US and Israel had both argued it should.

Israel believes Hamas and its allies are still holding about 130 hostages in Gaza, including 33 presumed dead.

Offensive

"Today's resolution gives Hamas hope that international pressure will force Israel to accept a ceasefire without the release of our hostages, thus harming both the war effort and the effort to release the hostages," Mr Netanyahu's office said in a statement.

It added that, "in light of the change in the US position", a visit by an Israeli delegation to the US would not go ahead. Israeli and US officials had been due to meet to discuss Israel's planned offensive in the Gaza city of Rafah, where 1.5 million Palestinians have sought shelter, having fled the fighting elsewhere in Gaza.

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken has said that a ground operation in Rafah risks killing more civilians and is "not the way" to defeat Hamas.

Meetings between Israeli Defence Minister Yoav Gallant and US National Security Advisor Jake Sullivan would go ahead as planned.

BRIDGE COLLAPSE HORROR

RESCUE workers in Baltimore were yesterday working furiously in an attempt to save the lives of dozens of people who were plunged into the icy waters of the Patapsco River when the Francis Scott Key Bridge collapsed after being hit by a container ship.

Initial reports indicated at least a dozen cars hit the water in addition to 20 or so construction staff who were working on the bridge at the time.

The workers were pouring concrete on to the bridge at the time of freak crash.

There appeared to be an explosion on the container ship as it collided with the bridge sending containers and diesel flooding into the water.

The ship involved is the 948ft-long Dali, a Singaporean-flagged container, which could be seen on ship tracking websites positioned stationary under the bridge after the crash.

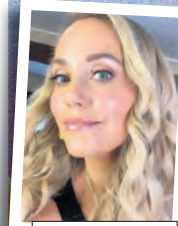

The ship's owners said all crew members were accounted for, with no injuries.

I THOUGHT MY BOOBS WOULD WIN AN OSCAR

Elizabeth Berkley had high hopes for X-rated movie flop Showgirls

EVERY GIRL IN HOLLYWOOD FOUGHT FOR HER PART: Elizabeth bares all in movie

TO most normal blokes, Showgirls is the sort of movie you're happy to stumble across on C5 late at night.

But its star Elizabeth Berkley reckons she was making a classic that should have landed her an Oscar!

Elizabeth, 49, attended a Showgirls screening at the Academy Museum's David Geffen Theater in LA, where a crowd of 1,200 gave her a standing ovation at the sold-out event.

Addressing the audience, the beauty – who showed off her boobs, arse and even her fandango in the 1995 flick – said that after she was cast in the movie, she asked her agent if there was a chance she might be nominated for an Oscar for the part.

"Every girl in Hollywood had fought for this role," she said. "So it was not a strange thing to ask."

Showgirls was a critical and commercial flop – a box office bomb, it made £30m against a £36m budget.

It follows a mysterious young drifter, Nomi Malone (Berkley), who begins working as a strip club dancer in Las Vegas and tries to ascend to the top of the world of Vegas showgirls.

After the film bombed, Elizabeth said: "I was left out in the cold and I was a pariah in the industry I had worked so hard for."

However, the beauty added that she was glad her on-screen snogging with co-star Gina Gershon has made her a lesbian icon.

Sara: I was a mess when Wright died

RADIO star Sara Cox has revealed she was “a complete mess” after hearing close friend and colleague Steve Wright had died while she was presenting her Radio 2 show.

Wright was found dead at his £2million home on February 12. And Sara, 49 (above), who worked alongside the reclusive DJ at BBC Radio before his passing, admitted the tragic news sent huge shockwaves across the studio floor.

She said: “I was a complete mess... we were all in complete shock. I looked out into the production area and people were hugging and crying... it really winded us as a station.”

The presenter was forced to continue fronting her afternoon show, despite struggling to hold back tears, but insisted she had no alternative, “because you want to be a professional, you want to do right by Steve”.

Hugh: I may ditch acting for politics

POSH actor Hugh Grant has revealed he could be tempted to go into politics, despite receiving "terrifying" abuse when delving into it previously.

The Four Weddings and a Funeral star, 63 (above), said: "Switching to politics has crossed my mind. But what I really see close up is that it's almost impossible to get anything done. 'I've had a bit of it before... it was really extreme and shocking and threatening to one's family'.

"You've got to bring so many people with you. My wife's mother is a politician. She was quite senior in the Swedish Parliament.

"Whenever the subject comes up, she just says, 'Don't. You have to water down everything. It's all horse trading. And nowadays the incoming abuse is unthinkable'.

Grant said he could be scarred by his own performance in the run-up to the 2019 general election, when he campaigned for people to vote tactically to halt a Conservative majority to stop Brexit, in which he "did very badly and lost in every single constituency".

He added: "What was interesting was the abuse that came in from the right. I never knew if they were real or if they were bots."

Co-op Bank ready to axe 400 workers

THE Co-operative Bank has announced it plans to cut around one in 10 of its workforce – shedding approximately 400 jobs – in a bid to cut costs.

The bank said that it was embarking on a consultation and restructure which will lead to a net reduction of 12% of its roles across the organisation.

"Today, we have announced a series of changes across the bank which are essential for the delivery of the next phase of the strategic plan," the Co-operative Bank said in a statement.

"These include the commencement of a consultation on a proposed operating model restructure which is expected to result in a net reduction of approximately 400 roles (12%) across the bank.

"The decision has not been made lightly, and the bank will continue to work closely with our trade union and to support impacted colleagues."

Tranny lags spark footwear shortage

SUITS SHOE SIR!

A MEN'S PRISON is suffering from a shortage of large ladies' shoes for tranny lags.

A report into HMP Cardiff, a category B prison holding 800 men, found transgender inmates struggle to get shoes that fit.

Men generally have larger feet than women, with the average UK bloke taking a size nine, compared to a size six for women.

There are around 250 transgender inmates in UK prisons, the majority being male-born but identifying as female and housed in men's prisons.

The report by inspectors from the Independent Monitoring Board (IMB), also stated that transgender inmates said the 'welcome packs' they got when they first arrived were not 'appropriate'.

Welcome packs – or first night packs – generally contain toothpaste, teabags, milk and sugar.

Packs handed to female prisoners often also contain various toiletries, including shampoo, deodorant and feminine hygiene items.

Transgender lags at HMP Cardiff, however, said they didn't get the same packs as women do in female prisons and, after complaining, the 'female' packs were introduced last year.

The problem with finding big enough shoes, however, has lingered on – with trans inmates struggling to find footwear to fit.

The report stated: "Issues raised by transgender prisoners included the welcome packs which were not felt to be appropriate to needs."

"Transgender prisoners requested the same packs provided to women prisoners and, with the Board's intervention, these are now provided on arrival at HMP Cardiff."

It added: "The only supply issue appears to be difficulty in obtaining larger sized female shoes."

The report praised the jail for its new 'equalities policy' – with 'equality peers' on each of the wings. It stated: "A new Equalities Policy was published in July 2023."

"Towards the end of the reporting year, there was a change in some of the prison leads overseeing different areas of diversity."

According to the report 'several' transgender inmates are banged up at HMP Cardiff (below).

UK POPULATION RISES BY 4.3M IN A DECADE

THE UK population stood at an estimated 67.6 million people in mid-2022, up by 4.3 million since mid-2011, new figures show.

England saw the biggest percentage increase across the period, with its population jumping by 7.5% – the equivalent of FOUR MILLION.

Northern Ireland saw the next highest increase at 5.3%, or an additional 96,225 people, followed by Scotland (2.8%) or 147,800 people) and Wales (2.2% or 67,882 people).

The figures have been published by the Office for National Statistics (ONS) and are the first UK-wide estimates for mid-2022, making them the most up-to-date snapshot of the population.

They show the average age of people in the UK in the year to June 2022 was 40.7, up from 39.6 in the year to June 2011.

All four nations now have a median age in the 40s, with Scotland recording the oldest, at 43.0 years, followed by Wales (42.9), England (40.5) and Northern Ireland (40.0).

The figures for England and Wales showed the population of the two nations grew by 1% in the 12 months to June 2022, the fastest rate for 60 years.

The increase was driven by migration, rather than natural change – unlike the baby boom which fuelled the growth in the early 1960s.

Biden rating 'like seeing gran naked'

A TOP Yank political strategist has hit out at President Biden's poll numbers, saying looking at them is equivalent to "walking in on your grandma naked".

James Carville, who rose to prominence for helping Bill Clinton to the White House in 1992, spoke of his overall disapproval of the current state of the Democratic Party.

Carville spoke about ratings and how he believes there are "too many preachy females" who are turning-off black male voters, while also complaining that "woke stuff" is killing his party.

Carville described Biden's ratings, which according to polls is at a low of 37.4 percent, as: "It's like walking in on your grandma naked... you can't get the image out of your mind."

Despite his scathing take, Carville added: "I actually like Biden. He's a tenacious guy that's had a real life"

However, he waded in with: "Don't drink beer. Don't watch football. Don't eat hamburgers. This is not good for you". The message is just too feminine."

Papa John's pizza axes 43 stores

PIZZA chain Papa John's is to shut 43 restaurants across the UK.

The takeaway business confirmed plans to axe the "underperforming" locations after launching a review at the start of the year.

It will close the restaurants by mid-May following a consultation process, Papa John's International said.

The company has not confirmed how many staff will be affected by closures which will be right across the country.

The group had previously said it planned "strategic closures" in order to free up money for investment and improving profitability at its remaining UK sites.

Papa John (above) has now identified 43 restaurants as "underperforming locations that are no longer financially viable".

MANIAC EATS HUMAN LEG

Sick Resendo
Tellez picks

A MANIAC snatched a man's leg – which had been severed in a fatal rail crash – and started to EAT it.

The loon removed the limb from the tracks at the local Amtrak station in Wasco, a city 25 miles northwest of Bakersfield, California, after a man was run over and killed by a train.

Incredible footage posted to Twitter shows the sicko closely inspecting the leg, even appearing to sniff and gnaw on it, in the middle of the pavement.

Revolting

He also appeared unconcerned by the responding police officers or bewildered bystanders filming the revolting scene, and gave a brief wave when he spotted the cameras.

The crazed man then took off with the leg, swinging it around nonchalantly as cops closed in on him.

Cops nab kid's bike w*nker

A MAN was arrested for furiously masturbating as he rode a child's bicycle around a busy supermarket car park.

Police officers were called to a branch of Wal-Mart in Margate, Florida, after a homeless woman reported an incident of indecent exposure.

The woman reported a man, later identified as Mondel Elise, 37, of North Lauderdale, was ripping the end off it while on a child's bike near her.

Based on the woman's description, police quickly located and confronted Elise and officers were able to then have the victim positively identify Elise as the man she had seen masturbating.

Elise was arrested for indecent exposure and transported to the Broward County Main Jail.

Sarah pops out with no panties on!

SEXY Sarah Jayne Dunn has confessed she loves not wearing panties and will even pop to Tesco commando as it feels "freeing".

The ex-Hollyoaks star, 42 (above), has insisted ditching underwear is the way to go, as she hits back at trolls who said it's "gross" to forgo undies.

Sarah said she is all for the recent trend to go knicker-free, after stars such as Kylie Jenner, Miley Cyrus and Fern Britton all vouched for the look.

Sarah, who made a name for herself recently by posing in undies on OnlyFans, said: "I've always been a proud commando girl. I go knickerless all the time – so much in fact that my other half calls it my 'uniform'!"

"After a long day at work I march through the door and whip off my undies. It's not just guys who need a bit of air down there!"

Sarah added: "I've been commando in public tons of times, too. I'll go to my local supermarket without knickers on. No-one else knows that I'm completely starkers underneath my joggers. "It's actually quite freeing!"

Carer 'put dead OAP in bin bag'

A CARER put the dead body of the 70-year-old woman she was looking after into a bin bag, rather than calling the emergency services.

Inga Bearden, 53, was arrested and charged with concealment of a corpse inside the OAP's luxury apartment in the Bronx, New York.

The victim, Margie Ann William-Collins, took a shower before settling down for a nap.

When Bearden – who was employed as a live-in carer – went to check on Ms William-Collins, she found her dead.

Bearden called her 50-year-old husband, and he allegedly came over and helped his wife place Ms William-Collins's body inside a black bag.

Bearden told cops the couple placed the dead woman in the bag as she had lice and they were concerned it would spread.

The 70-year-old's cause of death is still under investigation.

Bearden also told police that Ms Williams-Collins was known to ingest silica gel packets, the toxic drying agent usually found in shoeboxes.

HOT DOG HOOKER'S JEW-HATE SHAME

NICKED:
Catherine
Scalia

By KIT JACKSON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A WOMAN previously nicked for selling sex from her hot dog truck was arrested again for stalking a man at his job by exposing her breasts and yelling anti-Semitic comments.

Catherine Scalia, 57, was arrested by Nassau County Police in East Rockaway, New York, and charged with stalking.

The mum-of-four showed up at the man's place of work 10 to 15 times every day and harassed him.

She also repeatedly exposed her breasts to him at his job.

"And she yells anti-Semitic remarks at me," the man wrote in a police report. "I am not Jewish, but my employers are. I did not take offence to her remarks but it makes me fearful for my job security."

The police report did not say what exactly she said.

Scalia has also shown up to the victim's house on several occasions and "bothered" him there, he said in the complaint.

He said he has previously filed numerous police reports about her in the past and has been telling her to leave him alone for the last eight months.

"I have told her multiple times to stop coming to my job and my house because it is stressing me out and not good for my mental health," the man said.

He said that he knows Scalia from working in East Rockaway and during his previous job as a UPS delivery driver when he delivered packages to her house.

Scalia made headlines after she was caught selling sex from her roadside hot dog stand, earning her the nickname the "hot dog hooker."

In 2012, she was arrested by an undercover cop after residents in Baldwin had complained she was handing out suggestive business cards with her frankfurters.

In 2016, she was back in the news after she put up a sign in her front yard offering topless lap dances on a swing.

Eel slithered up man's bum

A MAN had a live eel surgically removed from his abdomen after it slid up his anus.

The stomach-turning discovery was made when an unidentified man, 34, went to the Hai Ha District Medical Centre, in Vietnam's Quang Ninh Province, with severe abdominal pain.

Doctors believe the eel entered the man's body through his arse and slid through his colon.

The eel was found after doctors performed an ultrasound and X-ray, which showed a foreign object was inside the man's digestive tract.

It caused intestinal perforation and peritonitis, a condition that causes inflammation in the stomach or abdomen.

JEN: I HAD TO DO A NAKED LINE-UP

HOLLYWOOD star Jennifer Lawrence has revealed she was once forced to perform in a "nude line-up" during an audition.

Recalling her pre-fame period as she was trying to make it as an actor in Hollywood, Jen (right) shed light on a particularly "degrading" audition back in 2017.

The beauty said she was "told by producers of a film to lose 15lbs in weight in just two weeks".

She added: "During this time, a female producer had me do a nude line-up with around five other women who were much, much thinner than me.

"We all stood side by side with only bits of tape on, covering our privates."

"This experience was photographed, so the women could then use the images as 'inspiration' for the dieting that they then had to embark upon for the role.

Jen, 33, added that one girl present during the audition phases was fired and the reason cited by producers was that she had not lost the weight fast enough.

Cops heard a man, later identified as Holley, had entered the business and sat down for an hour, exposing his genitals and "masturbating periodically," in front of two staff working at the front desk.

Footage

CCTV footage showed him doing this. Employees pointed out Holley, who was stood outside the salon, and officers arrested him. Holley initially gave them a fake name. Holley was charged with indecent exposure, impersonation and disturbing the peace.

CUM 'N' RAISIN

IT'S NATIONAL CLEANING WEEK... BIT OF BUFF & POLISH, GIRLS?

By WENDY THOMAS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

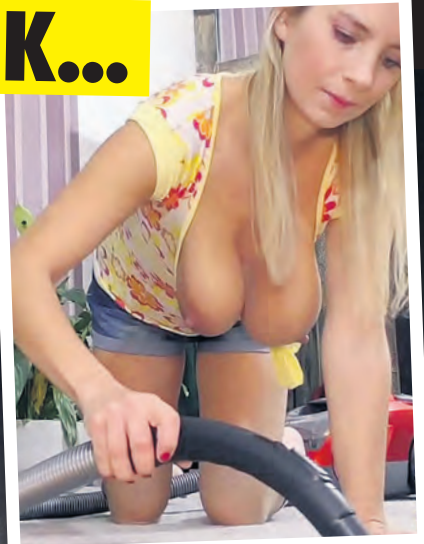

IN these 'woke' times, it is a dangerous move to suggest that ladies might be better at cleaning than men.

But it is a cold, hard fact. While us blokes may happily wallow in our own filth until our dying day, our womenfolk are vastly more fastidious.

This week, people of both sexes are encouraged to pick up the mop and a duster – because it's National Cleaning Week.

With spring in the air, now is the time to wipe away the grime and mould of winter and let the seasonal freshness into our homes.

But, if you can't be arsed with that, let the wife do it while you enjoy these ladies busy at their chores – with their bare boobs out!

'I have the most intense orgasm as I ride my man'

#MY SEX FANTASY

I HAVE a fantasy about going out for a naughty spot of dogging!

I guess it's the exhibitionist in me.

I often think about it when I'm playing with myself and it always gets me off.

I imagine me and my fella go out for a drive and pull up into car park.

It's dark and late at night. We flash our lights, which apparently means we're up for spectators.

Then around 10 horny guys surround us. My bloke gets my boobs out and he starts exploring them with his hot, wet tongue.

Our audience members get their hard cocks out and stroke them.

We put on a really horny show. I do my very best deep throat on my guy and I can see everyone is really enjoying the live porn event in front of them.

I have the most intense orgasm as I ride my man and the group of strangers wank off furiously.

The idea of being watched gives me such a thrill.

I've never been out and tried dogging in real life, but never say never...

Air rage nut's anti-Semitic rant on plane

A LOON who yelled an anti-Jew slur at a flight attendant went berserk on a plane and had to be restrained in a headlock.

Shail Patel, 29, was full of booze when he called the trolley dolly a "kike".

The drama unfolded as the American Airlines flight from Tampa, Florida, to Philadelphia was set for departure.

Patel yelled at other passengers: "Fk you blue-eyed white devils, I'm gonna take this plane down with all you motherkers on it!"

Another video showed a fed-up flyer in a blue hoodie and baseball hat grabbing Patel and putting him in a headlock after a shouting match.

The disturbance caused the flight to be delayed by 30 minutes as police officers were called to deal with the disruptive traveller.

Patel was arrested on two counts of battery and one of disorderly intoxication.

He remains in the Hillsboro County jail.

Warning after body found in reservoir

RESIDENTS have been warned to boil their water after a rotting human corpse was found in their local reservoir.

Workers with the Bureau of Water in Rochester, New York, discovered the adult man's body during their morning checks of the Highland Park Reservoir – which was immediately disconnected from the public supply and a plan was launched to drain its 26 million gallons.

"This is a very sad situation. But as this happened near our water supply, it's important that we exercise extreme caution in terms of our 'boil water' advisory," Mayor Malik Evans said.

The dead body was recovered by a police scuba team and has been handed over to the Monroe County Medical Examiner's Office for identification.

WHALES PULL A SH*TTY TRICK!

SPERM whales have worked out a way not to be eaten by hungry pods of orcas – SHIT!

Scientists witnessed the defence strategy of the marine mammals during a tourist excursion off Bremer Bay in Western Australia.

Experts said they saw a "cloud of diarrhoea" in the water, and this rarely seen defence mechanism seemed to help the sperm whale pod escape a fatal attack by 30 killer whales – known as orcas.

An orca pod tried to hunt the pod of giant sperm whales until the latter unleashed its unique defence mechanism.

Marine biologist Jennah Tucker witnessed the incident and said sperm whales had developed an intriguing and effective defence strategy over many years.

Ms Tucker explained that sperm whales defecate and then swish their tails around through it, to fend off or confuse predators. She added that because sperm whale diet consists mostly of squid, they "actually have this really reddish-coloured poop".

The orcas were then forced to swim off in search of fresher waters.

Ms Tucker said it is rare for orcas to try to take down sperm whales, with only a few documented cases.

She said: "Sperm whales are an apex predator and it was thought they were immune to killer whale attacks."

AS ACTOR CALLS IN AN INTIMACY CO-ORDINATOR FOR SEX SCENES WITH HIS OWN MISSUS...

WHAT FIRST ATTRACTED YOU TO YOUR WIFE, EWAN?

NUDDY SCENE: Mary in Fargo

By TALBOT ROTHWELL
news@sundaysport.co.uk

HOLLYWOOD'S thing these days is the "intimacy co-ordinator".

They make sure everyone on set feels safe during sex scenes and prevent over-enthusiastic leading men from "accidentally" slipping it in for real.

So eyebrows were raised when actor Ewan McGregor revealed an intimacy coordinator was used for sex scenes between him and his WIFE.

The upcoming series A Gentleman in Moscow features McGregor performing alongside Mary Elizabeth Winstead.

As The Weekend Sport reported last week, the married couple shared sex scenes in the programme, for which Star Wars actor McGregor said it was "still necessary" to have an intimacy co-ordinator.

Ewan said: "It's still necessary, as it's also about the crew, and it's odd to be naked in front of people, it's odd to be intimate in front of the camera."

The pair met on the set of the FX series Fargo in 2016, when both McGregor and Winstead joined the cast in season 3, playing each other's love interests.

At the time, both actors were married to different partners, but soon began dating and wed in 2022.

And Ewan got to see Mary's charms early on, as she appeared NUDE in a Fargo scene with him.

RANDY Roxi Keough wants to fulfil a fantasy and go to a full-on ORGY.

The 32F flame-haired beauty, from Bromley in Kent, said she dreams of being in a room surrounded by people shagging, and being able to join in or have others watch as she gets banged.

She said: "I'm not sure if I definitely would do it or not, but I would love to be in an orgy."

"The thought of something like 50 people in the same room, all shagging, with naked bodies everywhere, really gets me going."

EVIL COMMIES IN NORTH KOREA BAN ALAN TITCHMARSH'S LEGS!

EVIL Commies in North Korea have BANNED telly gardener Alan Titchmarsh's LEGS!

By KIT JACKSON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

The green-fingered broadcaster has been a fixture on North Korean state television since 2022.

But censors take care to blur out his legs as he wears "imperialist" jeans.

By wearing jeans to potter about in Britain's gardens in his BBC TV series Garden Secrets, Titchmarsh, 74, fell foul of a North Korean ban on the garments, which the regime has forbidden since the early 1990s as they are seen as a "symbol of US imperialism".

In an episode aired on Monday and set in the gardens of the 17th-century Hatfield House in Hertfordshire, Titchmarsh can be seen kneeling in soil, the sleeves of his checked shirt rolled up, plant pots and pruning shears at the ready.

His jeans, however, are blurred, though not enough to conceal the fact that he is wearing denim.

North Korea's censors edit around 15 minutes of each hour-long episode of the series, which was first shown in the UK in 2010, and mask Titchmarsh's commentary with North Korean narrators, as well as adding a soundtrack of music, according to the NK News website.

It is, however, just possible to make out the presenter's Yorkshire tones in the background.

Titchmarsh's unlikely fame in North Korea was noticed in 2022, but media coverage did not pick up on his obscured denim strides.

"I never imagined that my programmes would reach North Korea, but hopefully the calming nature of British gardening will be well received there," Alan said at the time.

The censoring of Titchmarsh's wardrobe is part of a campaign to shield North Koreans from the "malign" influence of western culture that began under the former leader, Kim Jong Il.

While his son, the present leader Kim Jong Un, has permitted his entourage to use Ford Transit vans and is a fan of NBA basketball, he has warned against allowing "bourgeois culture" and "anti-socialist behaviour" to undermine North Korea's socialist project.

In 2022, the US government-funded Radio Free Asia said the regime was cracking down on "capitalist" fashion and hairstyles, targeting skinny jeans and T-shirts bearing foreign words, as well as dyed or long hair.

The clampdown, an unnamed female source in North Korea told the broadcaster, "mainly targets women in their 20s and 30s. If they are caught, they are made to wait on the side of the road until the patrols can finish their crackdown in that area."

Arsonist witch torched home when no-one opened door

A SELF-styled "witch" set fire to a stranger's front porch when he refused to open the door to her.

Michelle Young, 46, (above) told cops that she was under the impression her friend lived at the home in Burlington, Iowa, when she lit the blaze.

She was still stood on the burning porch when firemen arrived, fortunately in time to extinguish the flames with minimal damage to the property.

Young admitted to setting the fire, telling cops she had scooped up "miscellaneous items" to ignite while on a two-hour walk in the neighbourhood.

Welcome

She told officers she was a "witch" and had seen a sign that said "witches welcome" on the porch.

Young said she had knocked on the door three times before stopping to smoke a cigarette and knocking once more.

That's when she set fire to clothing and other items.

The act of arson was caught on the homeowner's security camera.

Young was charged with reckless use of fire and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Hit-and-run driver stops escaped con

AN inmate who managed to break out of jail was run over and seriously injured by a hit and run driver just yards from the prison fence.

Matthew J. Ornellas Jr, 33, who was serving time in the Kauai Community Correctional Centre in Hawaii on a drug charge, escaped the facility and scaled the razor wire fence before running into oncoming traffic on the Kuhio Highway.

Ornellas made it about 300ft before getting hit by a driver, who fled the scene after making a U-turn, cops said.

He is in a serious condition in hospital and under police custody while the driver is found.

The Kauai Community Correctional Centre is a medium and minimum security facility. Ornellas was there under minimum security.

The 130-bed lockup offers education, substance abuse treatment, and religious, arts and work programmes.

'AMAZING':
Beauty has been praised

A TOP Ukrainian adult film star held a charity calendar photo shoot with front-line soldiers who have lost limbs defending their homeland from Russia.

And all the proceeds are going towards rehabilitation and prosthetics for other wounded warriors in need.

Yulia Seniuk, 28, known to grumble fans as Josephine Jackson, announced the shoot on Instagram – held in a Ukrainian theatre.

The babe is more often seen covered in spunk and getting hard cocks up every hole – including her tight, puckered ass!

The 36E beauty posed for pics in chic evening gowns along with the war heroes in various parts of the theatre.

The 12 soldiers selected for the calendar – one for each month of the year – were sharply dressed themselves, wearing suits and ties or tuxedos.

All of the veterans were missing at least one limb, and the photo shoot made no effort to obscure or hide their prosthetic limbs or wheelchairs from view.

The grand setting and sophisticated wardrobe choices were deliberate, Yulia said – intended to show the soldiers in a more dignified light than how they are quite often portrayed, either in uniform or as patients being treated in rehabilitation centres.

"This transformation reveals our brave soldiers from a different side – showing what refined, elegant and handsome gentlemen they are. It gives them more self-confidence and self-sufficiency," Yulia said.

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

"These are the emotions we should give them – not pity and tears."

The video on Seniuk's Instagram also offers a behind-the-scenes look at the shoot, in which the soldiers are seen smiling broadly and enjoying their moment in the spotlight.

Commenters on Yulia's post showered her with praise for her unique approach to supporting the Ukrainian troops, with many already asking when the calendar will be available for purchase.

"This woman has done more than our MPs and politicians. Yulia, you are an amazing person," one person wrote on Insta.

"Haters gonna hate, but she is great," another weighed in.

"Although it is a joyful video, it touched me to the heart. Our incredible, strong defenders! Thank you for this project! Yulia did a great job!"

Dear Ava,

I'M a university student and, as well as enjoying a great social life, I'm also having regular threesomes with two of my lecturers.

They're both blonde and aged 36 and 40. I'm 21. I first started shagging them a couple of months ago when I went to see one of them for help on a project.

As we were leaving, her pal turned up and said they were going for a drink and asked if I would like to join them.

After we'd had a few, we went back to my flat and it wasn't long before we were all kissing each other.

I had a massive hard-on as they both stripped off and started sucking my cock. I ended up shagging them both.

I've had them loads of times since then, but now I'm starting to wonder if I'm doing the right thing.

What should I do?

SW, west Midlands

Ava says...

YOUR excellent course work could get you a Masters degree in shagging!

Dear Ava,

I AM a 22-year-old virgin who is finding it really hard to pop my cherry.

I am reasonably fit and good looking, but things never seem to work out with anyone I may be interested in sleeping with.

I have met loads of girls when I have been out at bars and clubs, but none of them seem to want to sleep with me.

Even girls I have casually dated have never offered sex. I have tried everything and I am getting very frustrated.

I am thinking of visiting a hooker – just to get the deed out of the way, so I can relax.

Do you think this is a good idea for me?

TF, south London

Ava says...

NOT really. Stop worrying about losing your virginity, the right girl will come along eventually.

Nympho blonde lover has a massive hubby!

Dear Ava,

A FEW weeks ago I was sitting in a pub alone having a quiet drink when I walked a lovely looking blonde in her mid-40s.

We made instant eye contact and not long afterwards she came and sat next to me.

After we'd had a few drinks, I asked if she wanted to go back to my house.

She was a bit nervous at first in case her husband found out, but she agreed.

Once in the house she was a complete nympho and soon had my trousers down and her lips round my manhood.

After she'd finished giving me an expert blowjob, I lifted her skirt to find black stockings and suspenders and tiny black panties, which I pulled to one side before fking her hard and fast.

I thought that would be the end of it, but the other night I was in the pub again when she came in with her husband.

And to make things worse, she came and sat next to me.

Her husband, who is massive, was chatting with his mates and she was soon fondling my manhood through my trousers.

Now she's told me she wants to move in with me. But I'm scared of her hubby.

What should I do?

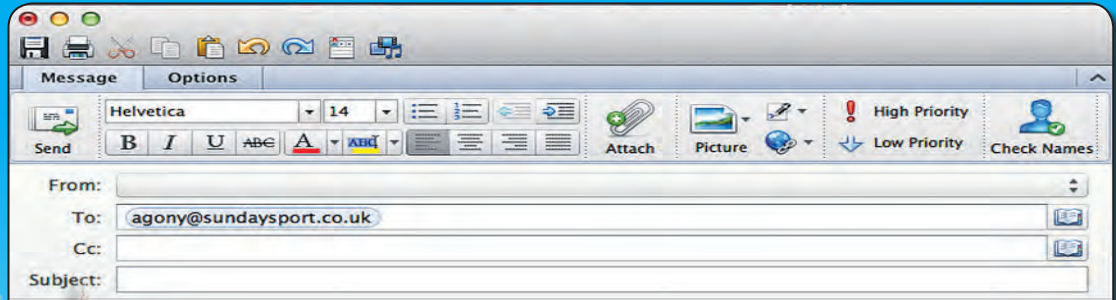

PT, east Yorkshire

Ava says...

TELL her it was just a bit of fun... then run!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week AVA DALUSH has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Best pal's horny babe is addicted to giving oral

Dear Ava,

MY best mate's bird is really fit – she's 19, blonde with lovely tits and is addicted to giving blowjobs.

Her love of oral is well-known around our area and she has sucked off five of my mates.

We've also been having regular oral sessions in my car and a couple of weeks ago, after many months of trying, she finally let me shag her.

After I'd taken her doggy-style on the back seat, she told me that it was her big fantasy to be filmed while fking five bitches.

I said to her that I would see what I could do.

Not surprisingly, I soon found some volunteers and last week me and four mates knobbed her for three hours.

She was wearing black stockings and susses when we got to her flat.

They weren't on for long and I did her from behind, while another guy slid underneath and took her up the arse.

Another mate with a nine-inch cock thrust it into her mouth and she wanked the other two off.

I saw her again the next night on my own. She wore a saucy nurse's uniform for me and loved it when I tied her to the bed, spanked her lightly and then pounded into her sopping hole.

Now she says that she would like to make another video of her shagging SIX bitches.

I've got a new team in place and we're set to make that video next week.

The only problem is that I feel a bit guilty when I'm with my pal – as he's started talking about marrying her.

Do you think I should tell him that his bird is a right old slag?

BB, Tyneside

Dear Ava,

I AM a 50-year-old businessman and I have been happily married to my wife for over 20 years.

We have a really active sex life and we both like to get kinky in the bedroom at times.

It's nothing too outrageous – just the occasional bit of bondage – but recently I have had the urge to dress up as a baby and wear a giant nappy.

But I am too scared to tell her in case she thinks I've gone a bit too "weird".

What should I do?

GR, Wiltshire

Ava says...

NO. But stop taking advantage of her.

Ava says...

DON'T be a baby – just tell her!

Dear Ava,

I'M quite new to the swinging game, but my hubby has been at it for years.

He just loves the sight and sound of 30 couples going at it in a private sex club.

After we got married he suggested I join in some of the fun, but I put it off until he brought home a DVD and persuaded me to watch it with him.

I had imagined all the women getting stuffed would be superslim model types.

But most of them looked about 50.

There was one old dear getting it in the arse from a big hunky stud – and she looked like she'd gone there straight from the retirement home.

But I also saw that a lot of the fellas had huge members.

I was intrigued, so I agreed to go to a bash with my hubby – where I grabbed hold of the nearest cock I could find and started wanking it.

As I was doing this I felt a hand tickle my fanny and then fingers going up.

Before I knew it I had a 10-incher up my pussy, one in my hand and a third in my mouth.

Now I can't get off on my hubby's cock alone.

RJ, Essex

Ava says...

WELL, it was his idea!

I scored in Dublin – but it could be an own goal!

Dear Ava,

I'M a 17-year-old apprentice with an engineering firm and I quickly earned a place as the main striker in the works' football team.

In fact, I scored so many goals that the team was pretty successful and the captain invited me on his stag weekend in Dublin a few weeks before the coronavirus hit the country hard.

There were twenty of us and we all pulled a bird on the first night.

My girl was 24 and after we'd been at the stout we staggered back to a hotel and got a room.

She was obviously gagging for it and wasted little time stripping to her panties. I threw my clothes off and groped and sucked her tits, which were an F-cup.

Screamed

Then she went down on me and gave me the best blowjob I'd ever had, before spreading her legs to show me her wet lips.

I was down there like a rat down a hole. Then I turned her over and whacked it into her doggy-style.

After half-an-hour we both screamed as we came and collapsed in exhaustion.

But since I got back to England, I've been getting lots of texts from her saying she wants to come over as soon as possible and move in with me.

But I live with my mum. What should I do?

DB, Merseyside

Ava says...

TELL her the truth. You don't owe this girl anything – she enjoyed herself as much as you.

DO YOU HAVE A SEX PROBLEM?

#HOT'N' HORNY

BLONDE beauty Gemma Hiles is such a sex fan that she and her fella had a marathon romp that BROKE the bed!

The stunna, from Preston in Lancs, just can't get enough nookie and can go for hours.

Posing with her 32DD boobs on show, Gemma said: "The first week we got together we were at it so much that we broke the bed!"

"Honestly, we were at it like rabbits. It was bloody great!"

"We were supposed to be going out for a meal, but we had a drink at my place first, and then another."

"Then we were all over each other. We didn't get a wink of sleep that night!"

HOT 'N' HORNY

WELL, she never looks like this on Silent Witness...

No, folks. You're thinking about EMILIA Fox. This is her very near-namesake AMELIA.

And while posh actress Emilia is no slouch when it comes to getting her pert busters out, Amelia here shows off considerably more on raunchy Babestation.

The 23-year-old Brighton babe said: "I love showing off and performing."

"And yes, let's be honest, I love being naked and playing with myself – knowing it's making guys out there randy."

Amelia, who has 32C boobs, added: "And it's a great way to show off my tattoos, which I'm really proud of, too."

CATHY BONIFACE

CHEF Kevin Bennett would be happy to serve up his meat 'n' two veg to gorgeous glamour veteran Cathy Boniface.

He said: "Those 32D boobs get me going every time. I'd definitely give her a taste of my sausage!"

The 30-year-old gym bunny, from Rotherham, South Yorks, would even give the Brighton beauty free training sessions.

And he'd be more than happy to offer his support to her perfect 32B boobs while she's enjoying a good workout.

LISA BANGERT

LIFEGUARD Jamie Walker begged us for a picture of his all-time favourite topless babe, Lisa Bangert.

The 48-year-old works at his local pool in Dorset during the summer but usually jets off to Tenerife's beaches in winter.

Although there's usually tons of lovely babes to keep his eye on, it's Mansfield's Lisa and her 34C boobs he can't get out of his head.

Jamie said: "I love meeting women but that's not happend for the past couple of winters."

"Instead, I'd thought about giving Lisa the kiss of life – she's stunning."

GAZZA: A TRUE ONE-OFF

He was a fan on the pitch...and one of England's greatest ever players

IN the great history of English football, few names evoke as much passion, pride, and turmoil as that of Paul Gascoigne.

From the football-obsessed streets of the north-east to the grand stages of Europe, Gazza's footballing journey was a rollercoaster ride of triumphs, setbacks, and great memories.

Born on May 27, 1967, in Gateshead, Gascoigne's love affair with the beautiful game began at a young age.

His prodigious talent soon caught the eye of local scouts, and at the tender age of 16, he signed his first professional contract with Newcastle United – a club that would forever hold a special place in his heart.

Gascoigne made his debut for the Magpies in 1985, and it wasn't long before his mesmerizing skills and exuberant personality endeared him to the Toon Army.

By PAUL THOMAS

In his four years with the club, Gazza made 92 appearances and scored an impressive 21 goals from midfield, leaving an indelible mark on the club before his record-breaking £2.2m transfer to Tottenham Hotspur in 1988.

That sort of fee wouldn't buy you a back-up left-back now but it was considered a fortune in the 80s – too much for Liverpool and Manchester United to fork out.

At White Hart Lane, Gazza's star continued to rise as he formed a formidable partnership with other attacking talents like Gary Lineker and fellow Tynesider Chris Waddle in Terry Venables' fast-flowing side. His time at Spurs saw him make 112 appearances and net 33 goals, cementing his status as one of most talented attacking midfielders of his or any other generation.

But it was on the international stage where Gazza truly shone. He made his debut for England in 1988 and went on to earn 57 caps, scoring 10 goals in the process.

Passion

His crowning moment came at the 1990 World Cup in Italy, where his performances captured the imagination of a nation.

Gazza's tears during the semi-final clash against West Germany became an iconic image of English football, summing up the heartache and passion of a team that came so close to glory.

Following his World Cup heroics, Gazza's career took him to Italy, where he signed for Lazio in 1992.

His time in Serie A was marred by injuries and off-field controversies, but Gazza's talent still shone through, making 47 appearances and scoring six goals for the Biancocelesti where he is still thought of as a club legend thanks to his winner in a derby clash with AS Roma.

Gazza was a huge part of Lazio winning their first Serie A title for 16 years in 2000 – a feat they have not managed since.

After a stint with Glasgow Rangers, where he won two Scottish Premier League titles and a Scottish Cup, Gazza returned to England, surprisingly signing for Middlesbrough in 1998.

Despite battling injuries and personal demons, he continued to dazzle fans with his flashes of brilliance, making 41 appearances and scoring four goals for the Boro in the Premier League.

Gazza's nomadic career saw him

SPORTS WITH A FOOTBALL LEGEND

IN HIS PRIME: Gazza shone as England went close in 1996 play for a string of clubs in the twilight of his playing days, including Everton, Burnley, and even a stint with Chinese side Gansu Tianma.

Though his physical prowess may have diminished, Gazza's passion for the game remained undimmed, a testament to his enduring love affair with football.

Addiction

As Gazza hung up his boots for the final time, his legacy was already assured.

He had won countless accolades, including the PFA Players' Player of the Year and the Football Writers' Footballer of the Year, and had left an indelible mark on the sport he loved.

But for Gazza, the end of his playing career was not the end of his story. In the years that followed, he would battle with addiction, mental health issues, and personal tragedy, his life a constant struggle against the demons that threatened to consume him.

A battle he still fights today but he looked in good form when seen at Wembley at the weekend.

Yet through it all, Gazza remains a beacon of hope for every fan who dreams of pulling on their team's shirt. For Paul Gascoigne, the journey was never just about the goals or the glory – it was about the joy of the game and the unbreakable bond between a player and the fans who cheered him on through thick and thin.

As the final whistle blew on his illustrious and roller-coaster career, Gazza may have left the pitch, but his legacy lives on – a testament to the enduring power of one man's love for the beautiful game.

RARING TO GO: Harry Brook

Brook back for Yorkshire county start

ENGLAND batter Harry Brook is set to be available for the beginning of Yorkshire's Vitality County Championship campaign, according to White Rose head coach Otis Gibson.

Brook withdrew from England's Test tour of India in January due to personal reasons and, following the death of his grandmother Pauline last month, he pulled out of a stint with Delhi Capitals in the Indian Premier League to be close to his family.

He has signalled to Yorkshire he is ready to resume his playing career, though, and Gibson is hopeful Brook will make his comeback for their Division Two opener against Leicestershire, starting on April 5.

Brook, who has not played any competitive cricket this year, could feature in a handful of matches in the championship before linking up with England ahead of their T20 World Cup title defence in June.

"Now that Brooky isn't going to the IPL, I suspect he's going to be available to us for the first few games, including Leicestershire," Gibson said in quotes on Yorkshire's website. "He loves playing for us."

Gibson suggested Yorkshire's prospects could be enhanced further in the early rounds by the availability of Joe Root, who like Brook excused himself from this year's IPL.

"Rooty is also going to be available for some games in that early period," Gibson added. "Having those two playing for us would be special."

England, meanwhile, have slipped to the bottom of the World Test Championship standings after Sri Lanka completed a 328-run thrashing of Bangladesh inside four days in Sylhet.

Although England have prevailed in three of their

COACH: Otis Gibson

10 Tests with Sri Lanka gaining a first triumph in three fixtures in the 2023-25 cycle, teams are ranked according to the percentage of points won.

Hindering England's progress was a 19-point deduction for slow over-rates in four of last year's five Ashes Test in a thrilling series which finished 2-2. England have just been beaten 4-1 in India.

Had that not been applied, England, third in the International Cricket Council Test rankings behind India and Australia, would sit in fifth place in the nine-team World Test Championship.

Ben Stokes' side have a dozen matches remaining before the final at Lord's in June 2025, starting with three-Test series at home against both the West Indies and Sri Lanka this summer and winter tours to Pakistan and New Zealand before the year is out.

England have failed to reach the final in either of the first two editions, finishing fourth in the 2021-23 cycle – having languished at the bottom of the table for a period before the appointment of Stokes as captain and Brendon McCullum as head coach led to a turnaround in results.

TOP TIPS FOR ALL TODAY'S RACING

MOUNT ATHOS

AIM HIGH WITH MOUNT ATHOS

By MIKE FRANCIS

MOUNT Athos can put a poor Wolverhampton run behind him in the Unibet More Boost's In More Races Handicap at Kempton.

A long season perhaps took its toll on the five-year-old gelding when he raced keenly and eventually finished fifth behind Intervention.

But a 92-day break from that run can be of benefit and he can return to the form he showed late last year.

He made all over the same course and distance to win by a length from Aratus in November and was only edged out by a short head in a Listed race at Deauville in December.

Up 4lb from that win in November, he can put a line through the Wolverhampton run and previous form shows he can shine when rested after securing a hat-trick of victories with 127-day and 161-day breaks in between.

Cracking Gold can make it a hat-trick in the Unibet Support Safe Gambling Handicap.

The three-year-old made an impressive start to his career when making it two from two at Kempton and Lingfield and despite giving weight away to all five of his rivals, he can continue his progression.

Don't Tell Su can break his

PAUL NICHOLLS

duck over obstacles in the Blackmore Vale Hurdle 1867 'National Hunt' Maiden Hurdle at Wincanton.

The Paul Nicholls-trained six-year-old won a bumper at Chepstow last April before taking an extended break and was then sent hurdling.

He was narrowly beaten on his return in October by Minella Missile, who subsequently went on to win the Grade Two Trustatrader Novices' Hurdle at Cheltenham in November.

Last time out he only found Menaggio too good when blundering at the last and in the drop in trip from two miles and five furlongs to a mile and seven furlongs can work in his benefit.

Molly Landau has made a promising start to her career under rules and she can use her valuable 7lb claim to guide Stanley Pincombe home in the Respect In Racing Amateur Jockeys' Handicap Hurdle at Wincanton.

Landau partnered Chris Gordon's seven-year-old to win over two and a half miles at Plumpton in November before he was held off by Mammies Boy last time out.

But despite the 8lb rise in the weights from that Plumpton success, Stanley Pincombe can return to the winners enclosure.

Sabrina is well placed to make it a productive day for Nicholls at his local track in the Crest Racing Mares' Handicap Hurdle.

The nine-year-old mare was beaten seven lengths on Boxing Day but the drop in class can see her return to the winner's enclosure at a course where she has previous winning form on soft ground.

El Granjero can claim his first win under rules at the fifth time of asking in the Best Odds At PlanetSportBet 'National Hunt' Maiden Hurdle at Hereford.

A point to point winner in Ireland, he has finished second on all three of his races over hurdles and was only headed close home at the same course last time out. He can break that sequence and go one better.

CLARKE KEEN TO KO WARDLEY

BIDING HIS TIME: Clarke

FRAZER Clarke is ready to have the last laugh when he takes on Fabio Wardley for the British and Commonwealth heavyweight titles on Sunday in what will be the biggest night of his professional career.

Olympic bronze medallist Clarke has been forced to bide his time for a shot at domestic rival Wardley after their prospective bout last year collapsed.

Clarke's own team of 258 Management and promotion company Boxer made the decision to withdraw the 32-year-old on the day of purse bids, which resulted in their fighter being at the centre of a social media storm.

After Clarke took criticism and ridicule from all directions "on the chin", he regrouped to get the better of veteran Mariusz Wach on points last summer before he comprehensively dismantled Dave Allen in September to finally set up an eagerly-anticipated clash with Wardley at London's O2 Arena on Easter Sunday.

"It wasn't pleasant," Clarke told Midweek Sport about the purse bid episode. "To go through that at that stage of my career, it felt unfair but I am a firm believer in dealing with things as they come to you."

"I just had to get on with it. I did that and didn't really complain too much. I got a lot of stick from a lot of people but took it on the chin. Got on with things. I had a couple of bad weeks but after that I was fine and we moved on."

Clarke (8-0, 6KOs) conceded facing 48-fight veteran Wach at York Hall months after he was in line to compete for the British title proved to be the "biggest anti-climax ever", while even Allen failed to "get the juices flowing" for the Stoke-on-Trent boxer.

However, motivation will be no problem when the 32-year-old steps in with Wardley, 29, after several social media exchanges between the duo who have been on a collision course since the latter beat one of Clarke's old Olympic programme team-mates.

"I was at the Nathan Gorman fight. I watched that with keen interest and the second he became British champion, I thought one day I will end up fighting him," Clarke said.

Rivalry

"I would say a rivalry is the right word. I wouldn't say it's a grudge because I have got no issue with Fabio."

"We've had a bit of back and forth, but that's just the nature of the beast. It is all part and parcel of the game."

"The rivalry is definitely there. I would say it is a competitive rivalry rather than anything else."

A subplot to this domestic dust-up is the pair's upbringing, with Clarke steeped in boxing tradition after he progressed through the British Olympic programme, while Wardley's first venture into the sport was through white-collar fights.

Nevertheless, Clarke acknowledged he is the underdog against an opponent who has won all 17 of his professional fights, but is ready to lean on his amateur pedigree and silence the critics after a "brutal" fight camp.

He added: "Physically, emotionally, it's been hard, draining but I feel like I'm coming out the other end."

"As a professional, this is definitely by far the biggest night of my life and everything will go into this."

"I'm motivated, I'm up for it and I'm really enjoying this underdog mentality."

"Having people against me, having people expecting me to get flattened, it will be sweet to prove people wrong."

TOM TAKES HART FROM INDIA

TOM Hartley believes his Test tour of India could be "life changing" as he plots a path to England regular.

The Lancashire spinner was a gut-feel selection for the trip, with his high release point, brisk pace and skiddy trajectory trumping a thin first-class record.

Despite losing 4-1, Hartley more than justified the call. Ending the series as the second-highest wicket-taker with 22, beaten only by Ravi Ashwin, the left-armers also sent down more overs than any other bowler as Ben

CRICKET By NED TRUEMAN

Stokes sent him into action on 250 occasions.

There was an unforgettable high in Hyderabad, where his second-innings haul of seven for 62 delivered one of England's greatest overseas victories.

"I know that game will be remembered for a very long time. I think it probably will be life changing," he said.

"Every so often I'll see a clip and I'm still surprised. I have to pinch myself like, 'Wow, that's what I did!'"

The more time passes the more it settles in. My mum went out the day after and bought every paper, so I've got a folder which will be nice to look back on one day.

"But doing what I did has changed my perspective on what sort of player I can be. I've got a long way to go and I can get a lot better but my ceiling's a lot higher."

"I enjoyed it so much and now I just want to keep playing Test cricket. It's a great environment and a great dressing room to be in. Everyone wants to be part of that and so do I." In the short term, Hartley faces a fresh challenge in the form of Nathan Lyon.

The Australia great has signed an all-format overseas deal with Lancashire this summer, which could squeeze the Englishman out of the side at the start of the season.

Rather than rail against the competition, he plans to use Lyon's vast bank of knowledge to his advantage.

"Of course it's tough to play two spinners but Nathan is someone I really want to learn off," he said.

Conor desperate to force his way into England's Euro 2024 line-up

CONOR Gallagher is targeting a strong end to the season with Chelsea to secure a place in England's Euro 2024 squad this summer – when any lingering speculation over his future will be parked.

With his current deal at Stamford Bridge expiring at the end of the 2024/25 campaign, Gallagher has yet to agree a new contract with the Blues and has been linked with a move away.

The 24-year-old has played plenty of football under head coach Mauricio Pochettino this term, which has involved difficult spells for the club.

While Chelsea sit 11th in the table they are just five points off a potential European spot and, having lost the Carabao Cup final to Liverpool in extra-time, will be back at Wembley next month for an FA Cup semi-final against holders Manchester City.

Gallagher is battling for a place in Gareth Southgate's 23-man squad for the European Championships in Germany and such fierce competition means club form could be vital in securing his seat on the plane.

"There are a lot of world-class players in the squad, a lot of top midfielders so it is always healthy competition in midfield," he said.

"I am always willing to do the best I can to give myself the best opportunity to play. The squad is a very close squad. We all want each other to do well and only want the best for each other.

"That has been a big part of our success in recent years and how far we've gone in tournaments.

"It always helps when you are performing well for your club. It is what Gareth and the others are looking at.

"I'll continue to work my hardest for Chelsea and give myself the best opportunity to be in that squad."

If he does make the cut, Gallagher could head to Germany with question marks still remaining over his immediate future – but he said that would be something to put on the back-burner in Germany.

"When it comes to it I'll be focusing on England and the task in hand," he added.

Despite uncertainty over his future, Gallagher has captained Chelsea on occasion this season and feels that helped him improve.

"I've had to step up and be more of a leader this season at Chelsea which I've really enjoyed and I think that's helped me develop more as a player as well," he said. "Of course, I think gaining an experience wherever in football, if it is club or international, you improve in certain scenarios."

"In tournaments coming up with England, gaining the experience I've had in the two cup competitions with Chelsea and getting as far as we have done will definitely help being in those positions."

Anthony Gordon hopes he is breaking into the England squad at the right time to make the final line-up for the Euros.

The Newcastle forward hasn't looked out of place and wants to cement his place in Southgate's long-term plans.

He said: "I want to play as many games for England as I possibly can. I'm quite hard on myself so I wanted to score and win. If I think like that, I can't do myself any harm."

"I know I played well but I hope

FIGHTING FOR HIS PLACE: Gallagher didn't make much of an impact against the Brazilians

NEW LION: Mainoo

Injuries mean more chances says Gareth

GARETH Southgate believes England's "incredible" injury list will help him make better decisions around his Euro 2024 selection.

Already without a number of regulars for the March camp, Harry Maguire, Kyle Walker and Sam Johnstone on Sunday followed Bukayo Saka and Harry Kane in withdrawing from the squad.

But England's eye-watering list of absentees have allowed Southgate to take a closer look at up-and-coming options, with Anthony Gordon, Ezri Konsa and Kobbie Mainoo making their debuts against the Selecao.

Southgate said: "I have to say, with everything that's happened, the original idea or plan for the week is a little bit different in that we're probably finding out about more players."

"But also that's really helpful. To see all of those players against high level of opposition will help us to make better decisions moving forward."

"You can't worry about what we haven't got."

"There's a lot of different reasons for those injuries. I think it is more complex than just people looking back to a winter World Cup, but every individual situation is different, frankly."

"It's an incredible number that are unavailable to us – haven't experienced that before – but, as I said earlier, that means there are opportunities for other people."

"We saw against Brazil people step up and take those opportunities, which is great for us as well."

Sunday's trio of withdrawals saw Rico Lewis, who made his debut against North Macedonia in November, and uncapped James Trafford follow Mainoo in being promoted from the under-21s.

"It's obviously a new generation, if you like, bar (Romelu) Lukaku, (Jan) Vertonghen, I suppose (Timothy) Castagne to a degree," he told Midweek Sport. "But from that team from 2018, a big evolution."

"I think (head coach) Domenico (Tedesco) has done a very good job to this point through the qualifying campaign."

"I would expect wingers that are very good in one-against-one situations, whichever of the selections they make – probably (Jeremy) Doku, (Dodi) Lukebakio, but could be (Johan) Bakayoko from PSV as well."

"They have good midfield players that we're aware of from the Premier League and also a defensive line that three of the four have probably played in the Premier League as well."

"It's a really good test. Different to Brazil, although the threat in transitions and counter-attacks is similar."

"Given the changes we're having to make as well, it's going to test us in every area of the game."

Southgate is happy with what he's seen from Mainoo, making comparisons with Michael Owen and Wayne Rooney.

"I think he is doing really, really well for a young player," Southgate said. "Those two were world stars at 17, 18."

"Rooney before his first major championship was already in that stratosphere. Michael was propelled into that during the World Cup."

"I played with both of those when they arrived. Wayne was one of the best we have had. Kobbie is still developing."

for more. It was not quite how I envisaged it. But it's still an amazing day for me, I relished every minute of it. I've got a taste now so I want more."

Southgate embraced Gordon when he was replaced by Marcus Rashford in the second half against Brazil at the weekend, but the former Everton player revealed it did not come with a promise of a place in his Euros squad.

Chaotic

Asked if the England manager had told him he was on the plane, Gordon said: "No! Hopefully he says that in a couple of months."

"He was saying, 'fantastic'. He was pleased for me. I think he was happy with my performance which is always a good thing."

"It was chaotic. When I came off (against Chelsea on March 11), I didn't know what was going to happen."

"Everything was up in the air. But I was really fortunate to miss out on any injury and I got to live the best day of my life."

Southgate admits the Wembley defeat against Brazil was a blow even if it was just a friendly and lots of players are out injured.

The England boss said: "It does hurt because we had an unbeaten year."

"But we deliberately took two really high-level games and of course we've had to put out a very different team to the one we might have envisaged."

"So, we've still learned an awful lot ahead of the summer that's really important. You know, some of these boys are pushing for starting positions, some are pushing for places in the squad. You need to see them against that sort of level of opposition to see if they're going to be able to excel in the summer."

Meanwhile, England captain Harry Kane has resumed light training with Bayern Munich after being released from the national squad.

Kane suffered an ankle injury in Bayern's victory over Darmstadt earlier this month and missed England's loss to Brazil at Wembley on Saturday.

The 30-year-old was allowed to return to his club to continue his recovery and the German outfit published photos of the striker participating in an individual fitness and ball work session.

The former Tottenham striker has proved a successful signing for Bayern and is currently the Bundesliga's leading scorer with 31 goals.

SCOTT CAN BE A EURO STAR

SCOTT McTOMINAY believes Scotland can give their fans something to shout about at this summer's European Championships.

The Manchester United midfielder is not worried about form in friendlies despite their 4-0 spanking against Holland last week.

McTominay believes that will have no bearing when the real action kicks off.

He said: "You can get complacent, too excited, ahead of yourself if you take your foot off the gas and sometimes a little kick in the teeth isn't the worst thing in the world, to get everyone back to the standards that we know that we are accountable for. "We don't want those feelings again."

"We want to be the most successful Scottish team in history, go there and show we can do it."

"I am full of belief in the team, manager and coaching staff as well."

CITY LIE IN WAITE

Guardiola likes look of new Lion Jarrad

NEW England defender Jarrad Branthwaite could be at the centre of a transfer battle this summer.

Cash-strapped Everton may need to sell the 21-year-old who has been one of the few bright spots in a tough season.

The centre-back has forced

By JOHN ANTHONY

is way into Gareth Southgate's squad and that has attracted plenty of interest from top teams.

Even if the Toffees beat the drop, Branthwaite is unlikely to stick around at a struggling side for much longer.

Manchester United, Spurs and Real Madrid are known admirers of the big man. But now Manchester City also look likely to throw their hat into the ring.

Pep Guardiola is known to be an admirer of Branthwaite despite shelling out £77m for Josko Gvardiol last summer.

He hasn't settled as hoped and John Stones has moved to be more of a midfielder for the Premier League champions.

That means Guardiola could do with another more defensive player in his squad and sees Branthwaite as the ideal man.

He won't come cheap though and, if a bidding war breaks out between at least three teams as expected, he could go for around the £70m mark.

But at his age and being an England player that is not an unrealistic price for a player with three years left on his contract at Goodison Park.
